Living Room Conversations provides a structured process for having conversations that actually get somewhere. Using ground rules and a format that lets everyone speak, Living Room Conversations enhance understanding and build relationships that help us live and work together.

The Living Room Conversations vision is a world in which people with fundamental differences of opinion and backgrounds work together with respect - and even joy - to realize the vibrant future we all desire for our community. Living Room Conversations may not change opinions, but they will allow you to better understand the topic and your neighbors.
